CUTTING SUGAR CANE

Extensive cane fields now occupy the near wooded areas. When the land is virgin, cane need not be replanted for a period of ten to twenty years. Too many cane fields and too much cane have led Cuba to abandon other plantations and import many products like petroleum, coffee, rice, eggs, etc. which are better obtained here. Actually an intensive utilization and development of cane, poultry, milk products, industries, etc. are highly important and going work to the man who objects to starvation by eating sugar cane.

"PINEAPPLE PLANTATION"

Cuba exports several million dollars worth of the richest pineapple yearly and also manufactures preserves, marmalades and wine of that fruit. Other fruits are coconuts like Mango, Mamey, Hiceres Guandules, Guava, the latter being also prepared at Jolly Parit. Cuban guava and undoubtedly the most delicious "Cajone de Guayaba." Take home a few dozen now! wonderful!
